Coding Camp

Mon-Fri, Jul
18-22, 1 -4 p.m. $75 ($60
for ETTSD
members / 2nd family member / military families.) Ages 8 and up. (Min. 6 campers needed to run camp.)

BYOL (Bring your own laptop.)

Instead of playing video games, kids create their own 3-D games with Kodu Game Designer. Kodu's user interface uses pictures and words so intuitive that even a 1st grader can create a playable game.

Creating Kodu games also helps people use their creativity to develop storytelling skills and learn to solve problems. Every game created will be as unique as a piece of child's artwork. They have fun, build games and play them, all the while learning the fundamentals of programming.

Coding Camp is run by Victoria Rivas. She currently teaches Software Design and was a computer programmer for 25 years working on projects as varied as missiles, fashion design and video games. Her games on Kodu Game Lab caught the interest of the site, where they did a feature article about her!
